NOVEMBER 2015

Worship Services

November 1, 2015 at 10 a.m. Food Pantry Collection: Mukwonago

"Walking With La Catrina: A Day of the Dead Celebration", Rev. Amy Shaw

Everyone is welcome at this Day of the Dead celebration. Bring pictures or mementos so that you can share your beloved dead with LCUUC; we will be decorating another gorgeous Day of the Dead altar with these objects and images. You are also welcome to bring MARIGOLDS (real or artificial, cut or potted and growing) in honor of those you are remembering on this day.

November 8, 2015 at 10 a.m.

"We Are One - A Bread and Wine Communion Service", Rev. Amy Shaw

What does it mean to experience Communion? Come and share this bread and wine (gluten-free bread and non-alcoholic juice available) communion and think about what it means to be part of something larger than yourself. If you have discomfort around past experience with communion, please feel free to speak with Rev. Amy before the service. All are welcome at this table, and everyone will be allowed to choose to participate in only ways they feel comfortable.

November 15, 2015 at 10 a.m. Special Collection: Family Promise

"A Loaded Word", Gus Santo

The loaded word is, of course, God, and the sermon reflects on how one can be open to transcendence without using that loaded word. It is about being open to Revelation, but not necessarily the recognized Sacred Scriptures of Christianity, Judaism, or Islam. It is about our being in the secular world and our ability to think beyond it.

November 22, 2015 at 10 a.m.

"Setting a Welcome Table", Rev. Amy Shaw Thanksgiving Potluck

Join Rev. Amy in this intergenerational service as we explore generosity and welcome. There will be a potluck Thanksgiving Dinner immediately following the service, and everyone is invited!

November 29, 2015 at 10 a.m.

"Cultivating Gratitude", Barb Adams, Christy Bowden & Fran Bills

During this time of year, it may feel like an obligation to live with a grateful heart. This service will explore ways to welcome gratitude into our daily lives.

Minister's Muusings

The colors of fall are blazing and the air has chilled. You've gotten out your sweater or your hoodie, maybe lit your first fire in the fireplace.

Autumn rituals. The things we do to mark the changing of the seasons.

Some rituals in our lives are good - they make us feel warm and safe; completing them tells us that all is right with the world (even when things may not actually be perfect). Other rituals are not so wonderful - they are behaviors we can't seem to shake, even when they make us feel miserable.

What are your rituals? What things do you do the same way, over and over again - what things would feel odd or wrong if you did them differently? Do you engage in sacred ritual, or do you find your sacred practices do not need ritual elements?

What are the secular rituals you choose? The meal you make for Thanksgiving? The way you get ready to leave the house each day? The way you say goodbye to friends and family?

Rituals don't have to be elaborate, though they may be. They don't need props or materials, those they may use them.

Cherish the beloved and familiar rituals which support and affirm you and those you love. If you have never shared the "why" or the beginnings of holiday and family rituals, consider sharing it this season. Ritual with meaning holds a greater value and depth than simple acts alone.

Examine the not-so-beloved rituals of your life equally. Does every argument have a sameness, to the point that you could carry on even if the other person went out for a snack in the middle? Does every trip from the house involve four clothing changes? Every business presentation or staff meeting involve the same cycle of procrastination and self-doubt?

Dismantle the rituals which cause you harm. Refuse to participate any more. Break the cycle - begin now. Sit in the discomfort and unease caused by the change. You can probably do it. If you can't, find help and support. It's out here.

Celebrate what heals you. Discard what diminishes you. Make a ritual of wholeness.

Be blessed.
Rev. Amy

ON BOARD

Your LCUUC Board is happy to report that the church year is going well this fall!

- The Board continues to review the published Church Policies, and approved the revisions to the Electronic Communications Policy, and Firearms Policy. Also, the Board member and officer roles were updated to reflect the latest church structure and operation.
- The new year-round Stewardship campaign is being well-received, and two sessions have taken place. The new system will do a great job spreading out the donations over the course of a year, and will eliminate most of the phone calls that are neither fun to make or receive. Thanks to Ric S and Eric L for heading this up!
- There has already been a new member orientation, and it appears 4-5 new members plan to join--welcome!
- The membership provided great feedback to the Committee on Ministry regarding the wording of the new Vision Statement. Two versions were created at member meetings, and a vote was taken to determine the winner. The Board completely supports the new Vision Statement which reads: In 2020 LCUUC is an inclusive spiritual community that is diverse, growing, vibrant, and economically sustainable. We provide enriching lifespan education and a strong public presence supporting social justice.
- Member help will be needed for a church inventory, to be done on Sunday, December 6. The more help we have the quicker it will go. The idea is to assign several people to each room. The information is needed for insurance purposes, but will also help us keep track of our stuff!

Further details can be found in the Board meeting minutes, which are always available for review. Board members welcome your questions, and thank you to all for your contributions to this wonderful community!

After presenting recent big events such as the Organ and Keyboard dedication service as well as the Intergenerational Choir singing great, new songs like "I Choose Love" the music program has this offer. From Thanksgiving to Christmas you have the opportunity to join the Choir on a trial basis. Join now and sing for the Thanksgiving service (November 22), the Christmas service (December 13) and Christmas Eve (December 24) and we are so sure you'll have more fun than you can imagine that we're ready to offer you a life-time membership at no charge. Act now and you can, along with anyone else who wants to take part, go caroling on December 18. Don't miss this evening of fun for the whole family. Harmoniously, Nancy Bratt and Doug Esty

IMPORTANT- PLEASE READ

2020 VisionQuest Moves Into Its Next Phase!

After months of work and a lot of input we arrived last week at our vision statement, and finished Phase 1 of our Mission and VisionQuest. We voted as a congregation on two final possibilities, and the second choice emerged as a clear winner. This statement targets where we will be placing our emphasis for the next 5 years:

LCUUC's NEW VISION STATEMENT

"In 2020 LCUUC is an inclusive spiritual community that is diverse, growing, vibrant, and economically sustainable. We provide enriching lifespan education and a strong public presence supporting social justice."

NOW PHASE 2 BEGINS!

Now that we know who we want to be in 2020, it is time to examine and update our mission statement.

Our current mission statement, created with the founding of the church, reads:

Lake Country Unitarian Universalist Church is a religious community that encourages spiritual growth in compassion, wisdom and understanding. We draw inspiration from the principles of Unitarian Universalism, diverse religious sources, and the breadth of human experience. We seek to live in accordance with this inspiration, working for positive change in our community, country and the world.

A mission statement should be a concise statement of what the congregation wants to be known for, or known as, within the wider world; what the congregation wants to mean to the community. It isn't set in stone, but should be revisited every 5-10 years, to see if it remains relevant and accurate

Now that we have a vision, we ask ourselves:

- ◆ If this is our vision, where does this lead us in mission?
- ◆ What "must" we do?
- ◆ In what ways does our vision lead us in service toward others in the broader community?

The Committee on Ministry is tasked with creating an updated or new mission statement- one which reflects who we are as a spiritual community and our vision of who we will be.

WE WANT YOUR INPUT IN THIS CREATION PROCESS!

Here is the timeline and how the process works:

You read this article.

You finish this sentence: "LCUUC needs to exist so that...". BEFORE NOV. 15, write your completed sentence and drop it off on Rev. Amy's desk, or in the envelope on the wall of the social hall, or email it to Rev. Amy at amypshaw@hotmail.com. Your answer should address why this congregation uniquely exists. Please be direct, and as concise and clear as possible. Keep answers under 100 words.

After November 15th, the Committee on Ministry and Rev. Amy will take all the answers received and will tweak, tighten, revise, or rewrite the current mission statement to reflect our current congregation, using your answers to guide us.

By January 1, 2016 the revised or recreated mission statement will be presented to the Board for approval. If approved, it will go into use.

Thank you for reading, and for your participation in this process.
Rev. Amy Shaw and The Committee on Ministry

NEW STEWARDSHIP PROGRAM

We've had two stewardship gatherings of up to 10 individuals or couples each. We've met and discussed LCUUC's financial needs with each group, answering questions that arose. Members were then asked to consider their pledge for the year. Pledges are beginning to come in!

This will be a year-round program. Each month, a group of members is invited to meet with Stewardship Committee members. If you can't make the meeting that you are invited to, we will be happy to ask you at another time.

ALL CHURCH RETREAT

Saturday, February 27

We are planning a Church Retreat for members and families! It will be a chance to connect with other members, learn something new, and be inspired. We are looking for interested volunteers to be part of the planning Task Force. This is a perfect opportunity to get involved with the life of the church, make some new friends, plan exciting workshops, etc. Do you have an interest or skill that you would like to share? We would like the workshops to be an opportunity to help us in our "search for truth and meaning."

We need help to:

1. Lead and/or plan workshops for adults
2. Lead and/or plan activities for children
3. Plan a craft and/or service project for all to participate in
4. Lunch plans

Please contact one of us if you'd be willing to be on the Task Force and/or to help with any of the above. The Task Force will meet on Sunday, November 15th after the service.

COOKIE SALE AND HOLIDAY BAZAAR Sunday, December 13 after the service

We will be having our annual Cookie Sale and Holiday Bazaar on Sunday, December 13th after the service in the social hall and classroom 4. I wanted to let everyone know a few months ahead because I am looking for any person(groups) who are interested in renting a table for the Holiday Bazaar for the low, low price of $10. You can take a table for yourself or pair up with others in our community and share in the fun and proceeds! We are hoping to feature artists/crafters from our own LCUUC extended community (think about family members, friends, neighbors...) that might be interested in selling their goods to holiday shoppers that day. If you don't craft but have food goods to sell we are also looking for honey, syrup, jellies, jams, pickles, relishes, or any other food item (but not cookies please . . . those are being sold in the BAKE SALE) that you create and sell.

Please feel free to e-mail me with any questions about the event/table rentals or to reserve your table (please send me your name(s), contact information, and what you will be selling/category). You can also share my contact information with anyone you may know of that might be interested in the bazaar. As the date approaches I will be sending out more details on the day.

I would like for us all to share in a Holiday Bazaar that offers unique and special gift items for the Holiday season!

Silent Auction
SOLD

The auction has ended. Items may be picked up from the table in the back of the Social Hall. Please pay the amount/s for the item/s that you ended up receiving: you may put a check marked "Silent Auction" in the memo line in either the offering baskets on Sunday or the dropbox on the office desk. You may also pay online through our website. Please pay promptly so that we may "close the books" in a timely manner.

RUMMAGE SALE AND PLANT SALE

Unleash Your Helper Genie! - An important Message from the LCUUC Finance Committee.....

- Talk a look around you.
- Close your eyes and feel the seat beneath your body.
- Listen for the music.

We are the church AND our church property is also an important part of the church.

We welcome and encourage ALL from the LCUUC community to join us on SUNDAY DECEMBER 6th immediately following Coffee Hour for fun and fellowship in completing our very first LCUUC Church Property Inventory! We are hoping to finish up by 3:00 or so (the MORE helping hands we get, the sooner we can complete our work!!)

FIVE top reasons why you should join in.....

#5.....This is a great way to unleash your Helper Genie by engaging in easy but essential work!

#4..... It helps everyone live an important UU Principle: Respect for the interdependent web of all existence of which we are a part.

#3.....It's a great way to meet, work with and enjoy the company of others in our LCUUC family.

#2.....There is no Packer game that day so if you are a Packer Fan you won't have anything to do.

And the #1 Reason to join in.....Ice cream cones to celebrate the completion of our church property inventory work are too good to pass up!

COUPLES IN RECOVERY 1st Sundays / November 1 9-9:55 a.m. in Room 5

Couples in Recovery (CIR) offers a program of recovery for both partners of a couple to attend together, in addition AA, Al-Anon, and other 12-step work. Goals include to heal, rebuild and strengthen the couple relationship. CIR follows AA principles, steps, and traditions, and applies them to a shared program of recovery. Couples who chooses to recover together, add another dimension to their individual recoveries.

We welcome you to Couples in Recovery - in this safe place, you can learn tools from other recovering couples. You will learn communication skills and have a forum to express the points of view of each partner. Here you can identify the effects of the disease on the relationship and recognize patterns of recovery that tell us recovery is progressive, too.

For more information, call 262-569-1011.

KINTSUGI SANGHA Thursdays from 6:30-8:15 p.m. in the Sanctuary

The Kintsugi Sangha is a place to sit in silent supportive community and share the experience of being genuinely human. It's easy to explain and sometimes not so easy to do: only just sit, gently, quietly, with a calm clear mind and open heart. The Kintsugi Sangha welcomes all traditions but draws primarily from the tradition of the Rinzai Zen lineage of Buddhism.

We have discussion topics each week about things like good and bad, joy, skillful means, judgment, attachment, fear. We learn about how traditional teachings address these subjects and also discuss how to take this information off the meditation cushion and out into the 21st century world of work deadlines, family obligations and traffic jams.

Drop by some Thursday evening; newcomers or anyone wanting more time is welcome as of 6PM. There is no prerequisite. All are welcome. Chairs and cushions are provided.

In respectful service,
Erich Moraine (Rev. Shokan Mui)

TED Talks 2nd Fridays – November 13 from 6:30 – 8 p.m. at Milwaukee Street Traders, 523 Milwaukee Street, Delafield

For those who have not attended in the past, Ted Talks are 20 minute talks given by experts on a broad range of subjects. Often they are simply amazing and inspiring, whether it's the latest research or simply a new and creative look at an issue of importance. In our evening we typically watch a TED Talk and follow up with a lively discussion - exploring the implications of the talk or, frankly, wherever our discussion leads (ala Socrates Cafe). Food and beverages are available for purchase from the restaurant. No charge and open to the public. If you plan on attending and have some thoughts on a favorite TED Talk that lends its self to good discussion, please forward it on to me.

Children's Religious Education

Religious Education continues this month with several new programs and activities! Here is a brief summary of what is happening:

Kindergarten – 2nd Grade: Our youngest class will dive into new stories that shed light on our Unitarian Universalist principles. They range from stories about the seven blind mice, gratitude and thanksgiving and begin our transition into the holiday season with a story about Jesus. After listening to the story and exploring it together, children have the opportunity to creatively express their experience.

3 - 5th Grade: Our elementary class will continue its active and engaging curriculum with the exploration of medicine and the upcoming winter holidays. We'll learn about the Universalist Clara Barton, who founded the American Red Cross, how to do first aid in times of trouble, Unitarian author Charles Dickens who wrote A Christmas Carol, and how a Unitarian songwriter wrote the famous tune, Jingle Bells.

6 – 8th Grade: Our middle school class will continue its study of Christianity, including debriefing their visit to St. John Neumann Parish and visiting St. Luke's Lutheran Church in Slinger. We'll look at the reformation and how it paved the way for Unitarian Universalism to emerge.

9-12th Grade: Our high school class will start and end the month with the popular Socrates Café, where youth choose and explore topics that are interesting to them. The month will include a study of Protestantism and new religious traditions like Mormonism and Baha'ism.

In addition, we will be hosting a Parent's Orientation for our High School Our Whole Lives (OWL) program. It is a comprehensive and progressive sexuality and spirituality program created by the Unitarian Universalist Association and the United Church of Christ and is designed to offer our youth the tools to make informed, healthy and kind decisions in relationships. Look for emails coming soon with more details!

If you have any questions about any of these programs or about religious education more generally, please don't hesitate to be in touch. I would be happy to meet for coffee or just chat on the phone. I can be reached by email at dre@lcuuc.org or by phone at 414-238-4728.

I look forward to another good month together. Thank you!
Schuyler

Our High School youth have two service activities planned for November!

November 8—We will take our turn at serving the Soup on Sunday. All are invited to please come and enjoy lunch after the service. A bowl of soup, bread, cookie and beverage—all for only $5!
